GOVERNOR SMALL MAY GET CHANGE OF VENUE FOR A TRIAL OF CASE

STATE ATTORNEY INDICATES A WILLINGNESS ON CERTAIN CONDITIONS

GOVERNOR MUST AGREE TO HAVE A SPEEDY TRIAL

Warrant for Arrest Served Late Tuesday Afternoon and $50,000 Bond Executed

SPRINGFIELD ILLS Aug 10—State's Attorney Mortimer today proposed conditions under which he will agree to grant Governor Small a change of venue from Sangamon county for a trial on charges of embezzlement of state funds for which the governor was arrested by Sheriff Mester yesterday

The state's attorney's propositions were

That the governor's counsel file a petition for a change in venue and confer with Mortimer in an effort to reach an agreement on some county acceptable to both the prosecution and the defense

That both sides agree to a speedy trial

Three indictments were returned against Governor Small by the Sangamon county grand jury on July 20 in which he was charged with embezzling half a million dollars of state funds while state treasurer and conspiring to defraud the state of $2,000,000 retention of interest on state funds

The states attorney offered the proposition after making a long statement in which he extolled the citizenship of Sangamon county where he said the governor could obtain an impartial trial regardless of claims to the contrary Mr Mortimer also paid a high tribute to the men who constituted the grand jury which indicted Governor Small and his co defendants Lieutenant Governor Sterling and Vernon Curtis of Grant Park

States Attorney Mortimer conferred with Attorney General Brundage immediately after the attorney general arrived in Springfield shortly before midnight last night Mortimer's proposal for a change of venue for the governor's trial was acceptable to the attorney general it was said

Mr Mortimer declared in his statement that his proposition did not waive his rights to file an answer to the governor's petition for a change of venue but added that under the conditions offered the change would be granted without opposition

GOVERNOR MAKES BOND IN SUM OF FIFTY THOUSAND

SPRINGFIELD ILL Aug 10—Governor Len Small of Illinois after resisting arrest on indictments charging embezzlement and conspiracy for three weeks on the plea of executive immunity to that the king can do no wrong is stated by his counsel today finally submitted to Sheriff Mester after the latter had besieged the state capitol with deputies for several hours

The governor protested his arrest until the last charging persecution and asserting his innocence but the sheriff of Sangamon county was adamount and insisted on taking the governor from the executive mansion to the court house where Abraham Lincoln used to practice law before accepting the bonds There the governor gave surety for $50,000 and went his way to await trial on the charge of defrauding the people of the state of some $2,000,000 while state treasurer through alleged failure to turn over to the state the proper interest on state funds It was a dramatic day in the capital of Illinois and the whole city was at white heat for hours as the climax of the long contest between the governor and county officers drew near After the governor had refused yesterday to yield to service of the three warrants held by the sheriff the latter had told him he would serve the papers today or as soon thereafter as possible either quietly or with any necessary effort

When the sheriff went to the capitol to perform his duty as directed by Judge Smith of the county court Governor Small attended by several advisers, was in his office and refused to come out at the sheriff's request The sheriff then placed deputies around the building to block any undetermined egress of the governor and sat down in the lobby to smoke until the chief officer of the commonwealth should decide to emerge

Crowds gathered around the state house in the afternoon and there was a holiday appearance within the structure as flashlights boomed and the high rotunda filled with smoke But the governor kept at his work in his office sending out two lists of appointments during the siege

As the shadow of Lincoln's monument in the capitol yard grew long under the declining sun the chief executive finally sent out word that he would surrender to the county officer at the executive mansion at 5 o'clock if it could be arranged to give bond at once The capitulation was accomplished by Mester who withdrew under the truce with his troop of deputies

At 5 o'clock the sheriff with his warrants somewhat thumb worn from long handling drove to the governor's home

Governor I am here with the warrants said Sheriff Mester when he met the governor in the mansion The sheriff then read the warrants and said

Governor you are under arrest

Very well what shall I do? the governor asked

C B Gillespie of the governor's counsel then produced a bond which had been prepared and asked the sheriff to take the surety in the mansion but the latter declined

You must go with me to the court house the sheriff declared

When Attorney Gillespie was insistent the sheriff said

Mr [illegible] you are not working for me you are working for Governor Small We must go to the court house

The governor entered Mester's automobile and went to the court house where bonds were signed by Roy and Harry Idle and C H Jenkins The governor then returned home.

RUSSIAN SOVIET PREMIER TELEGRAPHS RELIEF APPEAL

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, Aug 10—Nikolai Lenine the Russian soviet premier has telegraphed a relief appeal to the socialist newspaper Humanite here in which he predicts that the famine bids fair to approach that of 1891 in severity He asks that the workers and agricultural [illegible] of other countries come to the aid of Russia as a ready means of aiding the soviet republic

Several Russian provinces reads Lenine's appeal are afflicted by a famine which apparently will be only a little less severe than that of 1891 This is a terrible consequence of the backward cultivation of this country and of seven years of imperialistic war and civil war imposed upon the workers and peasants by the landowners and capitalists of all countries Immediate relief is indispensable

The soviet republic of workers and peasants awaits this help from the workers—the workers in industry and the small farmers Both are themselves oppressed by imperialism but we are convinced that notwithstanding their own miseries their love of work and the increased cost of living they will respond to our appeal

SPANISH TROUBLES HAVE SPREAD INTO WESTERN MOROCCO

MADRID Aug 10—Hostilities between the Spanish and Moorish forces which have been going on in east ern Morocco for the past three years and have resulted in a virtual stalemate of the Spanish campaign there are said to have spread into western Morocco. The Spanish commandant at Tetuan reports that tribesmen on Sunday attacked the blockhouse at Mejas in the Tetuan district and that the garrison after losing several men was obliged to fall back upon Gouk The Spanish commandant has declared that the incident was not important

An official statement issued last night relative to the fighting near Melilla states that the conflict at Mount Arruit where General Navarro and a force of men have been surrounded for several days, has completely ceased and that the enemy forces in that region appear to be less numerous

Another report received here from Melilla says that General Navarro's position is becoming more and more critical It is said that only a few of the Spanish troops can escape by retreating by sea

Fighting between Spanish and Moorish forces in Morocco continues to be centered in the region of Tetuan. In political centers there is an almost general demand for the establishment of a strong administration that may be capable of handling the critical situation. A parliamentary government under the premiership of Antonio Maura conservative leader is favored

MUCH OF TENSION OVER UPPER SILESIA HAS BEEN RELIEVED

PARIS Aug 10—Tension over the Upper Silesian question which was felt when the supreme allied council began its sessions here on Monday appeared to be materially decreased when the council met today Yesterday's frank exchange of ideas and the agreement of France Great Britain and Italy in principle to the frontier to be drawn between Poland and Germany through the Upper Silesia plebiscite area appears to have clarified the situation and there seemed every reason to believe that the remaining sessions of the council will be featured by the peaceful disposition of other questions

France and Great Britain have at various times shown divergence of policy regarding the problems which have arisen in the Near East but yesterday's exhibition of conciliation appeared to hold a promise that these two governments as well as Italy would agree upon the policy to be pursued relative to intervening in the Greco Turkish situation and endeavoring to arbitrate the points at issue between those countries The extent to which the allies would be restricted in the matter of supplying the belligerents with munitions was also one of the interesting points to be considered today

Russian matters are still to be discussed by the council and it is probable that the letter written by Pope Benedict invoking succor for the famine stricken districts of Russia may be laid before the council during the present meeting

SILESIAN QUESTION IS PUT TEMPORARILY ASIDE

PARIS Aug 10—The allied supreme council put the Silesian question now upon its docket a definite settlement temporarily as is today while awaiting the reports of the experts engaged in drawing the new frontiers line between Germany and Poland in this area agreed upon in principle between France and England yesterday

The experts informed the council that they expected to be ready to present their conclusions embodying the complete frontier line by 7 o'clock this evening There was in the council decided that it meanwhile it would discuss the Turkish situation and German disarmament questions

In taking up the former subject the council decided unanimously to adopt an attitude of strict neutrality in the Greco Turkish war without interfering with trading by private firms with either of the belligerent countries

Ambassador Harvey said this decision was in conformity with the policy of the United States previous to its entering the world war and he concurred in the council's finding

ASSESSOR IS DELAYED IN COMPILING ROLLS

Unable to Complete Work Pending Receipt of State Rate for the Year

County Tax Assessor Irvin Deaton is being delayed in the compiling of his tax rolls due to the absence of information as to what the state tax rate will be. The school tax rate from the various school districts in the county has not been received, which is also causing a delay.

Information was received Wednesday that in all probability the state tax rate will be received from Austin the first of next week, at which time all available forces will be put to work in making out the rolls of the 1921 assessments.

It is rumored that the state tax rate will be decreased if any change is made.

THREE CORONERS JURIES TO CONVENE WEDNESDAY IN THE DEMMER CASE

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Three coroners' juries will convene tomorrow in connection with the Schiller Park poisoning cases, Coroner Hoffman announced today. One will investigate the death of Fred Kolze, the other the death of Mrs. Kolze. If an inquest is held over the body of John Demmer, another poison victim, it will be by a Wisconsin jury, the body having been exhumed at Colby, Wis.

Mrs. John Demmer, questioned in connection with the case, has been given a continuance until August 22 on a writ of habeas corpus. Mrs. Demmer was Kolze's housekeeper after the death of Mrs. Kolze and John Demmer. Demmer died nine years ago, Mrs. Kolze eight years ago and Kolze about three weeks ago. Poison was found in the viscera of all the bodies when they were exhumed.

CON-VAN ALSTYNE LOST OR KILLED BY WILD BEASTS; POSSE CONDUCTING SEARCH

DAWSON, Y. T., Aug. 10.—Possesled by United States Marshal Powers today were searching for Con Van Alstyne. He is believed to have fallen into an old prospect hole or to have been killed by wild beasts.

Van Alstyne, sometimes called the unluckiest man in Yukon, left his summer camp on Mission Creek a few weeks ago on a prospecting trip to Eagle, 100 miles north of Dawson.

He has been searching for gold in this region for a quarter of a century. He first attracted attention when he staked the famous claim No. 16, Eldorado, in Klondike camp. Believing it poor, he exchanged it for another owned by Lippy, who later mined $2,000,000 from the property, and his successor took further fortunes from it.

When Lippy went to Seattle a multimillionaire, Van Alstyne obtained very little out of Lippy's old claim.

REED SAYS MISSOURI IS TYPICAL AMERICAN STATE

SEDALIA, MO., Aug. 9.—Missouri is one of the most typically American states in the union and Missourians are distinguished by their common sense and balance as well as their locality, Senator James A. Reed told the crowds at the Missouri centennial exposition here this afternoon. Senator Reed's address was the principal one of the day.

Senator Reed paid a tribute to early Missouri statesmen and particularly to Thomas H. Benton, whom he described as a man who sacrificed his career rather than indorse doctrines dangerous to his country.

Missouri, her senior senator declared, "had refused to worship at the shrine of strange gods. Wild, experimental and freakish laws have neither blighted her progress nor defiled her escutcheon—Missouri has remained true to the highest ideals of representative government."

Dallas Anti-Loafing Ordinance Scheduled For a Thorough Test

DALLAS, Aug. 10.—Counsel for the city commission of Dallas and for eight young men, members of prominent families, including Gus King, famous football star, were preparing today for one of the most interesting cases docketed in corporation court here in years involving an ordinance prohibiting street corner loafing. The trial is set for tomorrow morning and both sides declare the case will be fought to finish.

King and his co-defendants, including his brother, Joe, were arrested Monday night on charges of resisting an officer and disturbing the peace following an affray on a prominent downtown corner in which Patrolman P. O. Davis was roughly handled by a crowd and Gus King severely beaten by Davis before police reserves quelled the disturbance. Davis charged the defendants were blocking traffic and that he was attacked and beaten when he tried to induce the youngsters to move on. King in a statement asserts the trouble started when Davis called him a "jelly bean" and struck him (King) over the head with a club when he resented being called a street corner loafer.

Mayor Aldredge and Police Commissioner Turley state they will stand squarely behind the police in attempts to break up street corner gatherings by young men as a result of which they declare women are frequently annoyed. The defense has retained a strong array of legal talent and claim they will prove that the attack was unjustified and that the defendants were standing by an automobile and not causing traffic congestion as charged by Davis.

QUEBEC IS IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE FOR ARRIVAL OF NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL

QUEBEC, Aug. 10.—Quebec was in holiday attire today for Canada's new governor-general, Baron Byng of Vimy, due to arrive this evening on the steamer Empress of France.

King's wharf, where Lord Byng will land tomorrow morning, and the streets leading to the provincial legislative chamber, whither he will be conducted for the installation ceremonies, were gay with flags and bunting. Scores of Canadian dignitaries were present for the event, which occurs only once every five years.

The popularity of "Byng of Vimy and Cambrai," leader of the Canadian forces during the campaigns of 1916 and 1917, was expected to earn him one of the warmest welcomes ever extended to an incoming governor-general.

Lord Byng, in his 59th year, is the seventh son of the Earl of Stafford. He was created a lord with the title Baron Byng of Vimy, in recognition of his war-time service, and was voted a gratuity of 30,000 pounds by the British parliament.

JUDGE WELDON ORDERS THAT AUTOMOBILE BE RESTORED TO STEVENS

A mandatory writ of injunction was granted by Judge H. F. Weldon of the 30th district court late Tuesday evening in which the judge ordered that an automobile now in the hands of Charles Bebout be restored to R. H. Stevens, who filed the suit.

In his petition Mr. Stevens contends that on or about August 3, 1921, he was the owner of one 1921 Ford roadster, but that Mr. Bebout, a representative of an anti-theft automobile association, seized the car, alleging that it was a stolen car. The plaintiff claims that he has a bill of sale for the car and that by reason of the car being seized that he has been damaged to the extent of $3,000.

In addition to praying for the mandatory writ, the petitioner also asks that an order be issued restraining the defendant from further molesting him and upon final hearing that he have judgment in the sum of $3,000.

BARN DESTROYED AT EAST END OF SIXTH

Two lefty porkers met their doom early Wednesday morning when a large hay barn at the east end of Sixth street caught fire from some unknown cause and was totally consumed. The pigs were penned in the structure and were burned to death.

The Central fire department responded to the alarm, but the nearest fire plug was blocks away and the firemen were unable to do anything beyond preventing the blaze from spreading to other buildings near by.

Efforts to learn the name of the owner were without success.

PLUMBER COMPLAINS THAT HE IS ATTACKED

Trouble is Reported to Have Resulted Over Controversy Involving Material

P. G. Williams, a local plumber, appeared at the police station early Wednesday morning in a bloody and disheveled condition and filed complaints against three men who, he alleges, attacked him earlier in the day. Bob Elliott, one of the proprietors of the Elliott Supply company Sixteenth and Lamar streets, was arrested by Officer Howell and charged with affray.

The attack was reported to have been made at the Elliott company office and is said to have come up over a controversy involving some plumbing material which Williams had purchased from the supply house. In his statements to the police he declared that three men had beaten him, one of whom, he said, hit him with a metal pipe.

The case will be tried in police court Thursday.

MURPHY DECLARES AUDIT UNNECESSARY, BUT DOESN'T OBJECT

County Auditor W. W. Murphy when asked with reference to the order of the commissioners court of last Monday with reference to an audit of the county affairs since 1917 stated that although he was not present at the time this order was passed he had no objections to an audit of all departments but that if such an audit was made he would insist that it be made by a competent person.

In speaking of the matter further he stated I don't believe that much good is to be accomplished by an audit as the county auditor is required by law to audit all departments of the county which has been done regularly covering the period from 1917 to the present time.

The county auditor doesn't handle or pass on the county's money and is not permitted to draw a warrant against the county treasurer until an account has been presented to the commissioners and examined and approved for payment by them.

Since the county auditor would have nothing to gain by not making regular audits of the various departments I seem to recall that the commissioners court should pay all expense at this time for a special audit. However if it is permissible under the law and a contract for an audit is let I shall welcome the audit as we have a system of bookkeeping and accounting that we are proud of and would be very glad to have the criticism and comments of the findings by any reputable auditing concern.

Forces Youths to Chase Rabbits and Drink Corn Liquor

Chasing jack rabbits is a lot of sport but the task takes on a different aspect when one is compelled to do it with a pistol fired following your movement. It also had to take a drink of whisky voluntarily but it sure is awful when you are forced to it.

This is the story told by four youths as to what happened at Arcadia park Tuesday evening about sundown. According to their story the pistol was in the hands of a local oil man and he had the boys doing all kinds of stunts until the law interfered.

The man was tried in the county court of law Wednesday evening before Special Judge I. Hibb and found guilty of the charge of carrying a pistol. He was fined $150. Immediately after the trial in the county court he appeared before the justice of the peace and paid a fine for drunkenness.

Legion Auxiliary To Make Pajamas For Camp Logan

The Woman's Auxiliary to the American legion was permanently organized at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the Salvation Army citadel. It was unanimously voted to retain the temporary officers permanently. The report from the nominating committee is as follows: Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, president; Mrs. Joe B. Hartnett, vice president; Mrs. R. C. Thaxton, secretary; Mrs. T. R. Brannon, treasurer, and Ma Burdick, chaplain.

Following the announcement of the election of officers Mrs. Carrigan who has served for the past several months in the capacity of president and who was one of the main factors in the organization of the local unit made a very touching talk in accepting the office of permanent president.

Bulletins were read from state headquarters showing that the Wichita Falls auxiliary is still receiving honorable mention for the valuable service they are rendering.

A letter was read which had been received from Ma Burdick who is visiting in Houston. In this letter Mrs. Burdick states that there is a great need for pajamas for the boys in the Camp Logan hospital. The only pajamas issued by the government are made of a heavy coarse material which the sick boys find very uncomfortable in this hot weather.

The members of the auxiliary decided to spend the day Friday in making pajamas to send to Camp Logan and they urgently request every woman and young girl in Wichita Falls who can possibly do so whether they are eligible for membership in the auxiliary or not to come to the Salvation Army citadel to assist them. Machines and materials will be furnished but the women are asked to bring their own scissors, thimble and needle. A picnic luncheon will be served at noon each woman being asked to bring her own lunch.

The secretary of the local unit announces that anyone who is eligible to membership in the auxiliary will be heartily welcomed into the organization. This includes not only residents of Wichita Falls but also women living in the county. Mothers, wives, daughters and sisters of men who were killed during the war or who are members of the American legion are eligible to membership in the auxiliary.

SIXTY-FIVE AT HEALTH CENTER ON WEDNESDAY

Perhaps the largest crowd of babies and pre school age children that have ever been in attendance at the Red Cross clinic were brought in on Wednesday morning. Twenty three mothers from various parts of the city brought in 17 babies and 55 children over 5 years of age.

Those who telephoned to the Health Center were called for in cars and taken home after being examined. Drivers for this week were Mrs. T. E. Hunter and Mesdames L. F. and W. F. Remming. Last Wednesday Mrs. D. J. White and Mr. C. J. Shumake furnished cars and drove them.

Mrs. Tully registers the children as they are brought in and as the leave they are given a tag showing their weights and measurements and the food they require to bring them to the correct weight.

W. C. Heath of Heath & Co. has pledged a donation of $3 per month for the benefit of the clinic.

The interest which the mothers are manifesting in the assistance which they may receive is very encouraging to those in charge. One mother having heard of the attention which her child could receive at the Health Center walked two miles to bring it to the clinic for examination.

The regular physicians and Misses Dorsat and Quinn the Red Cross nurses were in attendance on Wednesday.

The clinic will be open as usual on Wednesday August 17 and all mothers who are interested are urged to bring their children for attention.

LATEST STYLE

By LENORE

The simple dinner dress in the sketch is so full of charm and that agreeable sense of being right that there is no wonder the lady carries it with such an air of nonchalance.

With its simple foundation of black satin and graceful loosely gathered lace ruffles it is quite one of the nicest models shown for dinner and theatre wear. It has been cut in black chiefly but also in sapphire blue, green and brown—the lace doll to match. But please if you decide on brown be certain it suits you, for no color is more full of pride for faded hair and dull lifeless skin and eyes.

PATTERN NO. 8?

A pattern for this dress model (No. 8?) can be obtained in sizes 16 36 or 38 by sending to Lenore, 8 West Fortieth street, New York City, your name, address and 10 cents in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketch and description of the garment to use as a working model when the pattern reaches you—which will be within two weeks time.—The Editor.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

Illustrations by Edwina

When I had let Jubilee down this morning by the rope in his teeth it was sitting so I did not go downstairs right away and I thought I might as well practise being a actressbat and I got up on the footboard of my bed and tried turning over in the air. I done pretty good for the first time and the second time I done a little better and almost landed on my feet and then I thought maybe I could do it better backwards and I tried that and I do not know what would have happened if one of the slats had not come out of my bed because I came down square on my head and now I have got a stiff neck, and when I got up my father was standing in the door with his hands on his hips and he said "I'll tell the world I am darn glad you ain't twins."

Then he told me to put on my pants and get out and milk the dumb cattle and to do it quick but just then Mr. Farrels auto began to make funny noises and I climb out of our window on his roof and run up the peak so I could see what it was doing and then it went sailing out of the yard and I saw my father go out and look in our barn and then he turned and come in the house and I climb down by the fence as fast as I could and me and Jubilee hid into our barn and give the cow and her lotter some hay and went in the house to get the pail and my father had just come downstairs and he wanted to know where I had been and I said I had been having the cow and her dotter and he looked kinda funny but did not say anything about it so me and Jubilee milked the cow and got out and milked.

When we went in everybody was eating because my father was afraid I was going to be late for work and Jim and my uncle went off to the field and I went out and skun out the garden future hole and when we were in the slippers elium tree Fanny said he betcha I could climb down it head first so I held his feet till he got his arms around the tree with his head hanging down and then he said he didn't believe he could do it but he kind brag'd so much I thought I would make him do it and so I furled his feet loose and he went down the tree so fast and hit the ground so hard that I could almost see the stars flying around his head and now him and me has both got stiff necks and he says it is my fault. POOR OLD RUSSIA

Some estimates place the starving in Russia as high as 25 000 000 persons The lowest estimates lately have been 10 000,000 persons, a number which staggers the imagination

What a lamentable thing it is, the whole sordid pathetic story A nation of grown up children whose backs had always felt the lash secures freedom and then they swing the pendulum to the other extreme They want complete freedom where every man is boss where every product is a community product The result is that a parliament of prime ministers takes charge of the grand and glorious nation All that the radicals of the centuries have been preaching is to become a part of the basic law of the land

The world's great age must begin anew It has

And we must start all over with Russia That part of the world which retained its sanity must now save Russia The fatal result of the Russian experiment will unfortunately not cure many of the preachers of radicalism, the pseudo radicals of their wild eyed beliefs They will still contend that except for certain difficulties the Russian experiment would have succeeded

But this is not the case Their theories are splendid for theories but they have no place in the world of realities Leadership is a thing not to be despised Law and order are the structures on which civilization is founded Leadership was manifested early in the development of the race by the selection of the chief of the tribe Law and order came with the growth of the tribe Laws and their enforcement are but the accumulated wisdom of the race They have come out of the experience of man and have been preserved because they have been found necessary

The tendencies of irresponsibility in man require their preservation and enforcement In our own enlightened town without the laws and their enforcement, governing every phase of our local life there would soon be anarchy and starvation

This is all the more true of the Russian situation The result is that the great example which Russia was to give the world is striking But it is the most pathetic example in history because of its gigantic proportions It carries with it down to the very bottom of human experience broken homes and broken hearts broken families and broken lives broken principles and dashed hopes

It promised the children of Russia everything they might want It gave them a stick of candy and took from them their bread It took from them their determination to struggle upward and gave them a drunken orgy of impossible liberty The leaders of the red movement in Russia should have a special hell and this hell should be just a little lower down and a little hotter than the hell prepared for those Englishmen who in the eighteen fifties, introduced opium into China and forced the traffic in it for their own financial advantage For a thousand years the mothers and fathers and children of Russia will be paying the price of the last two years impossible experiment whose only purpose was satifying the personal whims of the leaders

It is believed that one may go from this earth of struggle in a short space of time into a perfect heaven If this may be done it is the only complete change perfected in a short space of time To realize it we must spend a great many years getting prepared for the right colored ticket when we get ready to cross the river The laws governing nature are basically the same as the laws governing man We all realize that, but it takes a horrible example occasionally, such as the one just given us by Russia to make us fully appreciate that fact

COMMENDABLE ACTION

There was a feeling of relief in more than one industry Tuesday when the word came from Austin that the house in the Texas legislature had killed all taxation bills for there had been apprehension that some industry or business must be the victim of revenue raising efforts. Now having failed to create additional revenues the legislature will necessarily have to observe the strictest care and economy in its appropriations Altogether this is a most satisfactory action.

Porter Wibley, secretary of the west Texas chamber of commerce, and M M. Woodall, former secretary of the Temple chamber of commerce, have purchased the Sweetwater Reporter Both are experienced newspaper men and if they give the paper their personal attention ought to make it one of the best of its size in the state.

DOING IT WITH MACHINERY

In our complicated civilization we find many changes from the ways of our fathers One hundred years ago a four story building was an enormously high building and now a 44-story building is no great novelty Wheat was sown by hand, harvested with a cradle and threshed with a flail not so many years ago Spinning and weaving was done in the home of our grandmothers and the cloth dyed with walnut juice or some other home made dye Candles were dipped, shoes were made on the farm the blacksmith was the manufacturer and the horse the conveyance

But faster than the ways of man and his spiritual development have been the invention and manufacture of labor saving devices In the Bible lands the farmer still plows with a team of oxen yoked to a crooked stick But on many of our Texas farms a tractor pulling several plows will be found The invention and the manufacture of these machines is a remarkable step forward in the life of man

It is reported that a mechanic in Detroit recently sought a position with one of the automobile plants He was asked what experience he had had His answer was that he had worked for Henry Ford for seven years When asked why he quit he stated that he had been fired, the reason for his dismissal being that he had dropped his wrench while doing his stunt in setting up the cars as they moved along This seems no serious offense in itself, but the entire works had to be shut down and several thousand men reduced to idleness while he recovered his wrench and caught up with the cars which had passed

This may not be a true story but its merit rests upon the fact that it could almost happen in many manufacturing plants in this country Machinery is fast taking the place of hands and backs and in a great many instances seems to be taking the place of brains as well Our civilization is growing so complicated that individually we cannot drop wrenches without getting the procession out of step and causing confusion

HOW MUCH IS 7067 PER CENT?

A dispatch from Austin which told that the state railroad commission had issued a statement saying the earnings of Texas railroads for the five months ending May 31 had increased 7067 per cent over the same period last year was highly interesting but the details were too meager What the people would like to know is how much the railroads really earned An increase of 7067 per cent might not amount to much if the earnings for the five months last year did not amount to anything The public knows that the rates are unconscionably high and that if the railroads are not making money they ought to be

The History of Your Name

By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN

MAGIE

Variations—McHugh Mackay, McKee, Pugh Hughson, Hewson, Hughes.

Racial Origin—Ancient Celtic, also Teutonic.

Source—Given names

Strictly speaking the family names mentioned are traceable to just two separate and distinct sources one Celtic and the other Teutonic Yet the names have become so interwoven in their influences on one another that it is more convenient to discuss them all together

Lest in the antiquity of Celtic mythology there is a name so old that its meaning is not clear though apparently it developed in not ten of the pagan gods In the Gaelic division of the Celtic race that is the Irish and the Scots it runs through history as the name Hugh with a dozen odd differences in spelling quite close to the pronunciation of the Cymric (Welsh Cornish and Breton) Hu

Naturally when the Angle Saxons and the Normans came along with the name Hugh a development of the old Teutonic hugsur meaning thought or thoughtfulness confusion resulted

From the Gaelic form of the Celtic name (Aodh) have come McKee and the anglicized forms McHugh in Ireland and in Scotland Mackay The Welsh Pugh is a contraction of Ap-Hugh It ought to be Ap Hugh and then Pugh

Hughes and Hewson of course are variations of the Saxon and Norman Hugh's-son or Hugh's n

Some of the Irish McHughs however trace their names back to the given names of Norman invaders of Ireland who dropped Norman first in and formed family names after the Irish fashion from their given names

HUMANISMS

Inner Lights on Lives and Whims of Personages in the Public Eye

By WILLIAM ATHERTON DU PUY

Again is my contention borne out that men no matter how highly placed no matter what responsibilities they bear never grow up

Again is my theory proven by the conduct of that dignified body, the United States senate

President Harding came to the capitol not long ago while the senate was in session He liked it around the capitol because he has spent many pleasant years in that atmosphere so instead of calling one after another of the senators who help shape the course of events to the White House for conference he went to them and gathered half a dozen of them about a table in the senate restaurant to talk matters over

Senator Smoot who was not in the conference realized that group He conceived that those about the table were feeling a bit elated because of their selection and might be inclined to swagger over their associates who had been left out

So he proceeded to make that luncheon something of a chaotic affair This he accomplished by insisting on roll-calls on every question that came up in the senate Thus he dragged each of the president's guests away from the table half a dozen times and converted the occasion into more of a procession than a conference

Back in the hard times of 1893 three itinerant gentlemen wandered into the Indiana gas belt and mutually suffered great privations

James J Davis now secretary of labor was in those days sleeping in the straw over at Muncie and looking for a job

Ernest I Lewis now interstate commerce commissioner was sticking type at Anderson nearby and W D Neshet the author worked on the same publication The remuneration was $6 a week The town clock struck two bells at 6 30 every morning and when it did these young novices were supposed to be at the case They worked until 6 30 in the evening Finally both advanced to to post of reporter and each received $8 a week

Then Lewis got fired because times were so hard At just that time they were laying the first brick street ever put down in Anderson and Lewis talked the contractor into employing him as timekeeper

Now all three can look back and laugh for all have got ahead in the world

Claudius Hart Huston assistant secretary of commerce, was an orphan boy on a farm in Harrison county Indiana whose Scotch mother maiden name MacRae taught school for a living He worked his way through Valparaiso college

Uncle Joe Cannon, a little while ago went up to the Cape Cod district with Representative Joseph Walsh and ate the first beach dinner, baked clams nevers thing that he had ever experienced in all his 81 years of living.

Patience.

Time teaches us a lot of things
In earlier years when we were young
The angry and the hasty tongue
Produced a round of bickerings
And many a trifling fault we made
Into a sin of scarlet shade

The little disappointments then
In selfish eyes were magnified
We could not put our whims aside
Lest joys might never come again
And many bitter days and nights
Were spent in battling for our rights

Then we were quick to take offense
One careless word upon our ears
Irritated and a flood of tears
Young people have no better sense—
And we were young and did not know
Enough to let the trifles go

But Time has taught us many things
Where once we quarreled now we sole
We've learned that anger isn't worth while
And found the peace which patience brings
Now sharing all its joys and woes
We take life as it comes and goes

Litt'le Benny's Note Book

If you save 3 cents on every basket of the trash and I said to Willis Has Paul if I buy a basket will you help me carry it home and then even tho I will be sorrid about saving the 3 cents maybe I will give me a dime I'll give you 3 cents out of it

Say Mr Jenkins I said to Willis and Willis I said in kind of jest Willis I'm not Willis started to cry and I said I'm telling a lie I'm the bottom and walking sideway

Is seven cents a little enough I said I don't know how heavy it is good grief

All we do is poor wawling and rest in stead of manly wawling and then I said Jenkins on account of the basket I think I'll have instead of lighter I'll take a dime and I'll give you 3 cents if you'll give them back instead

Willis and I carried the basket back to the grocer store dropping it twice but I'm not and wishing we had not seen it

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

How the Prix De Rome Came to a Tenement

THERE are some artists who think that prizes and such things do no good in their profession

In fact one large body of American painters and sculptors calling themselves Independents always announce their annual exhibition as without a jury and without prizes

But even those who believe in allowing the individual artist to make his own way without assistance would be rather stricken by the romance of Frank Schwarz a starving boy of twenty, who had served in the Camouflage Service in the war, and was living from hand to mouth in New York until the other day

There had been a knock at his door and he was holding a notice in his hand telling him that he would have to give up his garret—he owed a month's rent, $12, which he was unable to pay

Face to face with impending disaster he heard the postman's call in the street below

More out of habit than in any hope he dragged himself down the four flights of stairs to receive an official letter, notifying him that he had won the Prix de Rome that he had given up all hopes of having come his way

He rushed off to find the Secretary of the American Academy in Rome Not only was it all true, but there was another happy shock for him

Barry Faulkner in charge of the Tiffany Foundation for Artists at Oyster Bay had recommended that he be admitted to the summer course there as an additional prize for his picture, A Tribute to Heroism

So instead of the dreary grind in the East Nineteenth Street tenement, Italy and Rome with all their treasures will be waiting for him in September

The Academy will arrange for his passage and supply him with a studio and living quarters abroad, while he will only have to pay for his other living expenses out of the annual income that forms part of the prize

To show that there is some truth in the old proverb that it never rains but it pours, the father of young Schwarz arrived at the house almost as soon as the son had left it carrying a clipping from a newspaper

The family had been separated for years and the announcement of the award was the first clew to put the other man, a waiter in a big hotel, on the track of the youngster who had gone his way from the Middle West to make a career

It all reads like an exciting moving picture story of art life All the contrasts are there

Perhaps too it will not be without the conventional happy ending

It is said that the housekeeper of the house has a daughter who alone of those who came in contact with the painter was sure that he would come to great things

All that, however, is another story.

Spudders Make Clean Sweep of Shreveport Series, Winning 7 to 2

BY PAUL W. TAPKIN

The Gassers said good bye to Athletic park yesterday afternoon for the season of 1921 and as Billy Smith left the orchard his face was wreathed in anything but smiles. And he had good reason to feel all peeled up because those pesky Spudders took a final playfull pat at his charges, the saloid derby assuming the form of a setback for them. Yesterday's loss almost wept as to all hopes of going back to Louisiana with the club well up in the race and ready to hand onto the top rung at the moment's notice. But it was not to be. It will take a much better aggregation than that from Shreveport to stop the Spudders and it is doubtful whether the latter would even be in the game were they to continue playing as they did yesterday.

Most of Billy's men were sans in the fifth inning when Weadick hurled the ball game away. Weadick was in trouble from the start and Miller, Craft, Bissett and Storey was having a field day trying out of such with his hurling. But Miller, Craft and Holloman were in this round and Holloman was left this round to come through with a costly muff. Before the debris was cleared away the Spudders had chalked five tallies across the pan and had tucked the ninth contest away.

Jim Sewell, who has long had the Indian sign on the Texas from Louisiana, was the flinger who was nominated by Salmon to clean up the series. Jim got into several difficulties during the course of the fray but his control worked to his advantage like a bunch of big leaguers and simply walked let them lose the game. Buddy Napier, Tex McDonald and Jake Miller broke into the limelight in the starting lineup while a perfect peg from right field by Griggs in the opening chukker kept the Gassers in their cages.

Buddy and Tex did their great deed with the willow, each connecting three safeties. When the dust kicked in half of the sixth the Fund Morefacing them for the second time in as many days and the Spudder batting was quite as soon after. He did permit them to score one more run and less the first inning he faced them but that was all. He had things his own way thereafter. The following detailed score will show how it all happened:

First Inning

SHREVEPORT—Storey grounded out Sewell to Works. Hartford flew out to Boecher. Tanner made a brilliant stop of Ewoldt's grounder and threw him out at first. No runs no hits no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Boecher cracked one at Craft who threw him out at first. Tanner lined a double to deep center but was doubled himself a moment later when McDonald lined to Hartford. No runs one hit no errors.

Second Inning

SHREVEPORT—Tanner threw out Jackson. Fibel singled to center and took second while Clark and Works were disposing of Holloman. Long singled to right and perfect peg by Griggs catching Fibel at the plate. No runs two hits no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Clark leaded off with a two bagger against the left field fence took third on Miller's sacrifice. Craft to Hollihan and scored on a squeeze play, Griggs going out Fibel to Jackson. Works walked and stole second while Craft held the ball but Kitchens first was a weak pop to Ewoldt. One run one hit no errors.

Third Inning

SHREVEPORT—Henry drew a base on balls and was the first victim of a double killing which came on Craft's hit. Tanner to Clark to Works being the official report of the play. Storey went out Clarks to Works. No runs no hits no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Sewell fanned. Bischoff who had relieved Boecher in the second doubled a hard hit in front of the plate and was thrown out by Henry. Tanner fanned to Fibel. No runs no hits no errors.

Fourth Inning

SHREVEPORT—McDonald threw out Hartford. Jackson singled to center and took third when Jackson doubled to the center field fence. Fibel was purposely passed filling the bases. Holloman grounded to Sewell who threw to the plate for a force. Long then hit down the third base line. McDonald made a brilliant stop and threw for a double killing Jackson at the plate. No runs two hits no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—McDonald singled to right and was forced at second by Clark. Ewoldt to Hollihan. Miller stole second after Griggs had popped to Holloman. No runs two hits no errors.

Fifth Inning

SHREVEPORT—Henry singled to left the hit being the first one off Bischoff's fast ball. Sewell fanned but Storey and Hartford singled in success on the latter's hit. Henry and putting scored a third on an attempted steal home. Ewoldt missed the ball and Griggs tagged out on the line by Kitchens. Ewoldt then went out via the Works to Works route. One run three hits no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Kitchens walked and took second on Sewell's throw to Craft to Fibel. Bischoff's infield hit to Ewoldt kept Kitchens from reaching third from where he scored on Henry's single to right. Long went to third on the hit and Miller to center scoring Long. Hollihan to Tanner on second. Bischoff advanced a station when Hollihan retiring Clark. Jake Miller ended an easy pop up to Hartford under and dropped after fairly. McDonald and Tanner were in the error. Miller scored when Griggs singled to center and ended the spasm by grounding out. Five runs four hits one error.

Sixth Inning

SHREVEPORT—Jackson flied to Miller. Fibel walked. Holloman gave one to Miller and Long fouled to Works. No runs no hits no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Moore was the box in this frame. Ewoldt out Hartford to Fibel. Sewell fanned. Storey. Bischoff walked. Moore scored on Tanner's single to center. Tanner scored when McDonald poled a single to the same territory. Long fielded to Holloman and was thrown out at first. One run two hits no errors.

Seventh Inning.

SHREVEPORT—Henry doubled to left and took third when Clark was thrown out Moore. Storey singled to center scoring Henry. Hartford hit into a double play, Tanner to Clark to Works. One run two hits, no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Miller walked. Griggs lined to Storey and Works grounded out to Fibel unassisted after Miller had been thrown out stealing. No runs no hits no errors.

Ninth Inning

SHREVEPORT—Clark threw out Henry. Batt hit for Moore and grounded to McDonald. Storey flew out to Miller. No runs no hits no errors.

MARINES ADD NEW BLOOD ON EVE OF SPUDDER SERIES

The Hampats arrived today determined to wreak their vengeance on the Spudders. They were not in a most pleasant frame of mind after dropping two straight to the Panthers and they could see nothing but red. Announcement was made to the effect that a new third sacker named Krigbaum had been purchased from the Mineral Wells club of the T. O. league who will relieve Decker. Decker came to the club well touted but failed to make the boat and has been turned back to Mineral Wells. The purchase of Catcher Shangling from the Moose Jaw club of the Western Canada league was also announced. Patterson is leaving no stone unturned to bolster up his club as the Dallas fans are now pennant mad.

A new league record was set there in the Panther series when the two clubs played to 20,302 people in four days.

The Marines have just emerged from their hardest series of the year, while the Spudders have been going along smoothly for a couple of weeks, winning games without any apparent exertion on their part. Whether the strain of two hard series will tell on the Hampats will soon be known though it is hardly likely as they are hustlers and do not know the meaning of the word quit.

The addition of Bobby Stow has bolstered up the club wonderfully. Marvin Smith has done creditable work for his employers but he is not in Stow's class. In fact very few are Bobby's work between second and third last year is well remembered by local fans and practically everyone predicted that the Panthers were done when he went to Atlanta. But Jakey Atz took a man who couldn't do anything with the Marines and who is now without a peer in the Texas league—Topper Rigney.

Many Good Ball Players.

However Bobby Stow isn't the only real ball player on the Marine club. Bad News Jim Galloway at the initial corner will step with any of them when it comes to fielding his position and a more dangerous man with the club can not be found in the circuit. The big field leader of the Hampats is a popular man around the circuit and one who commands the respect of all with whom he comes in contact.

Eddie Palmer at second base is one of the old soldiers of the Texas league but Eddie can still show the youngsters a trick or two. He goes better against the Spudders than any club in the league and has a very mean habit of breaking up ball games with his club at Athletic park. The same holds true in Dallas. Eddie must have a grudge against our fair city as he is anything but a genial guest.

A new face will be seen at the hot corner in the person of Krigbaum and he is more or less an unknown quantity. Dallas critics have nothing but words of praise for him and as he has not worked around the circuit yet their word must be taken for it.

Falk, Munson and Mattick in the outfield compose a trio that will be hard to beat anywhere. All are dangerous hitters and can field with any in the league.

Robertson and Wilson behind the bat take care of some of the best hurling that has been seen in the Roberts loop for some time. In Lefty Swartz, Tipple, Harper, Hill and Conley Ham has a quintet of hurlers who will hold their own any place. The latter is easily the best fielding pitcher around the circuit and is also the best hitting pitcher.

Spudders Have Edge

But despite the good ball players on the club it is hard to see where they have a thing on our Spudders. There isn't a fast sacker in the league playing better ball or hitting the ball harder at the present time than Caddy Works. Who would swap Danny Clark for Eddie Palmer or Tex McDonald for Decker? There is little to choose between Stow and Tanner. The question as to which was the better shortstop last year Stow or Tanner was always a subject for debate and one which was never settled.

Would anybody consider trading Boecher, Miller and Griggs for Falk, Munson and Mattick. Hardly.

As for the hurling staff what more could one desire than the brand served up by Salm's corps recently. And on the receiving end Robertson and Wilson would not be considered a good swap for the Spudder backstops.

Yes boy there's going to be all kinds of fur flying at Athletic park the next five days. It is the next to the last series of the year at the local lot and the last for over three weeks. There will be a lot of disappointed fans if the Salmites don't take at least three out of five but on paper at least there is no reason why they shouldn't.

CHICAGO, Aug 10—Jim Vaughn, southpaw pitcher of the Chicago National, was indefinitely suspended from organized baseball yesterday by Judge K M Landis, baseball commissioner Vaughn had been suspended a month ago by Manager Evers for failure to keep in condition while the club was in the east and the suspension expired today He reported to the new manager, Bill Killifer, and was advised to seek reinstatement by Judge Landis

The judge in suspending the big pitcher declared that Vaughn after notification of his suspension by the Cubs, had signed a three-year contract to pitch for the Beloit Fairies (Fairbanks-Morse) team of Beloit, Wisconsin In so doing the judge declared he had aligned himself with an outlaw club, which employs ineligible players and plays games against outlaw clubs

Nine and still going like a million dollars

What are you going to do? Spot a run or take one?

Papers around the circuit have evidently added a new standing head to those run daily on the sport page—"Spudders Win Again

The boys have a lead of two full games now The Marines will have to sweep the series to pass them Should the invaders take three out of five the best they can do is to knot matters up

About the most serious blow that could happen to the Spudders would be to have Bob Bescher out of the line-up during this series. Bob gave his leg a mean twist yesterday but it may not be as bad as was thought at first Let's hope so. Those two or three blows per day would be missed.

Salm has high hopes of winning a few ball games with George Knadler The new moist ball hurler is said to be the business Leland McElwee has been managing the Walters club since his release from the Spudders and he said he hadn't seen anything better in the Texas league Fair enough!

There has been some talk of a double-header between the Spudders and Marines in Dallas next Monday Interest is at fever pitch in Dallas now and the Marine management figures that two games on that day will draw about 15 000 people It all depends on the showing of the Marines here Fifteen thousand is not at all impossible for a city that turned out over 26 000 in four days for single games There is no postponed game to be played off, but the game will be shoved up from Labor day

Danny Gross is suffering from a slight case of tonsilitis He is out on the field every day but he's a sick hombre just the same

The way the Spudders fielded yesterday was a caution "Buddy" Tanner turned in two long pegs from deep short that were beauties and Cecil Griggs shot one in from right field that was a gem But the real stop and peg of the day was contributed by Tex McDonald Tex went over in back of third with the bases jammed and spoiled a drive off Long's bat that had two-base hit written all over it The drive almost knocked Tex down but he clung to the sphere. He didn't have a chance to scramble back to the bag for a force-out and he couldn't have got the runner at first in a thousand years He had just one play open and he realized it as soon as he got his hands on the pill He shot it on a line to Kitchens forcing Jackson at the plate for the final out

Billy Smith is about as near out of his mind as a manager gets to be Four losses at this stage of the race put a wet blanket on his hopes for winning out

Add passing of 1921 managers—Bill Donovan

Horace S McCoy sports writer on the Dallas Journal is here with the Marines. He's as full of optimism as a sports writer ever gets to be, but unlike some others who have visited our city with their clubs, he realizes that there are other teams in the league besides the Marines

Jimmy Zinn is breaking into the Pirate line up as a relief hurler quite frequently of late Babe Adams gets credit for hanging up his ninth consecutive victory yesterday but Jimmy came to his rescue and saved the day for him

It took Tex Davis quite a long time to get warmed up yesterday After he had cracked em up at the beginning for 10 innings he settled down to business and shot them out without the semblance of a blow for nine chapters

The Octopus Marooned

By O. HENRY

"ONCE," said Jeff Peters, "And the state seal of New Jersey never bit into a charter that opened up a solider and safer piece of legitimate octopusing. We had everything in our favor—wind, water, police, nerve, and a clean monopoly of an article indispensable to the public. There wasn't a trust buster on the globe that could have found a weak spot in our scheme. It made Rockefeller's little kerosene speculation look like a bucket shop. But we lost out.

"You remember I told you that me and Andy Tucker was partners for some years. That man was the most talented conniver at stratagems I ever saw. Whenever he saw a dollar in another man's hands he took it as a personal grudge, if he couldn't take it any other way. Andy was educated, too, besides having a lot of useful information. He had acquired a big amount of experience out of books, and could talk for hours on any subject connected with ideals and discourse. He had been in every line of graft from lecturing on Palestine with a lot of magic lantern pictures of the annual Custom-made Clothies' Association convention at Atlantic City to flooding Connecticut with bogus wood alcohol distilled from nutmegs.

One spring me and Andy had been over in Mexico on a flying trip during which a Philadelphia capitalist had paid us $2,500 for a half interest in a silver mine in Chihuahua. Oh, yes, the mine was all right. The other half interest must have been worth two or three hundred thousand. I often wondered who owned that mine.

"In coming back to the United States me and Andy stubbed our toes against a little town in Texas on the bank of the Rio Grande. The name of it was Bird City; but it wasn't. The town had about 2,000 inhabitants, mostly men. I figured out that their principal means of existence was in living close to tall chaparral. Some of 'em were stockmen an' some gamblers and some horse speculators and plenty were in the smuggling line. Me and Andy put up at a hotel that was built like something between a roof-garden and a sectional bookcase.

"'And I know that—is listening to your side-kicker make a speech.'"

"Now, there were three saloons in Bird City, though neither Andy nor me drank. But we could see the townspeople making a triangular procession from one to another all day and half the night.

"The third day of the rain it slacked up awhile in the afternoon, so me and Andy walked out to the edge of town to view the mudscape. Bird City was built between the Rio Grande and a deep wide arroyo that used to be the old bed of the river. The bank between the stream and its old bed was cracking and giving away, when we saw it, on account of the high water caused by the rain. Andy looks at it a long time. That man's intellects was never idle. And then he unfolds to me a instantaneous idea that has occurred to him. Right there was organized a trust; and we walked back into town and put it on the market.

"First we went to the main saloon in Bird City, called the Blue Snake, and bought it. It cost us $1,240. And then we dropped in, casual, at Mexican Joe's place, referred to the trade, and bought him out for $590. The other one came easy at $400.

"The next morning Bird City woke up and found itself an island. The river had busted through its old channel, and the town was surrounded by roaring torrents. The rain was still raining, and there was heavy clouds in the northwest that promised about six more mean annual rainfalls during the next two weeks. But the worst was yet to come.

"Bird City hopped out of its nest, w[illegible] its pin feathers and strolled n[illegible] for its mututinal toot. Lo! Mexican Joe's place was closed and likewise the other little 'dobe life-saving station. So, naturally the body politic emits thirsty ejaculations of surprise and ports helium for the Blue Snake. And what does it find there?

"Behind one end of the bar sits Jefferson Peters, serious, with a six-shooter on each side of him, ready to make change or corpses as the case may be. There are three bartenders, and on the wall is a ten-foot sign reading 'All Drinks One Dollar.' Andy sits on the safe in his neat blue suit and gold-banded cigar on the lookout for emergencies. The town marshal is there with two deputies to keep order, having been promised free drinks by the trust.

"Well, sir, it took Bird City just ten minutes to realize that it was in a cage. We expected trouble; but there wasn't any. The citizens saw that we had 'em. The nearest railroad was thirty miles away; and it would be two weeks at least before the river would be fordable. So they began to cuss, amiable, and throw down dollars on the bar till it sounded like a selection on the xylophone.

"At the fashionable hour all on everybody went home to dinner. We told the bartenders to take advantage of the lull, and do the same. Then me and Andy counted the receipts. We had taken in $1,300. We calculated that if Bird City would only remain an island for two weeks the trust would be able to endow the Chicago University with a new dormitory of padded cells for the faculty, and present every worthy poor man in Texas with a farm, provided he furnished the site for it.

"Andy was especially loaded by self-esteem at our success, the rudiments of the scheme having originated in his own surmises and premonitions. He got off the safe and lit the biggest cigar in the house.

"'Jeff,' says he, 'I don't suppose that anywhere in the world you could find three cormorants with brighter ideas about down-treeing the proletariat than the firm of Peters, Satan and Tucker, incorporated. We have sure handed the small consumer a giant blow in the sole apoplectic region. No?'

"'Well,' says I, 'it does look as if we would have to take up gastritis and golf or be measured for kilts in spite of ourselves. This little turn in hug juice is, verily, all to the Skibo. And I can stand it,' says I, 'I'd rather batten than bant any day.'

"Andy went into the back room awhile and came out dressed in his best clothes. There was a kind of murderous and soulful look of gentle riotousness in his eye that I didn't like.

"In less than an hour Andy's skate had turned to an ice yacht. He was outwardly decent and managed to preserve his aquarium, but inside he was impromptu and full of unexpectedness.

"'I'm the crater of a volcano,' says he. 'I'm all aflame and crammed inside with an assortment of words and phrases that have got to have an exodus. I can feel millions of synonyms and parts of speech rising in me' says he 'and I've got to make a speech of some sort. Drink,' says Andy, 'always drives me to oratory. I've got to get an audience together, Jeff, and get this oral distension assuaged or it may turn in on me and I'd go about feeling like a deckle-edged edition de luxe of Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth.'

"'Well, Andy,' says I, 'if you are bound to get rid of this accumulation of vernacular suppose you go out in town and work it on some indulgent citizen. Me and the boys will take care of the business. Everybody will be through dinner pretty soon, and salt pork and beans makes a man pretty thirsty. We ought to take in $1,500 more by midnight.'

"So Andy goes out of the Blue Snake, and I see him stopping men on the street and talking to 'em. By and by he has half a dozen in a bunch listening to him, and pretty soon I see him waving his arms and elocuting at a good-sized crowd on a corner. When he walks away they string out after him, talking all the time; and he leads 'em down the main street of Bird City with more men joining the procession as they go. It reminded me of the old legerdemain that I'd read in books about the Pied Piper of Heidsieck charming the children away from the town.

"One o'clock came; and then two; and three got under the wire for place, and not a Bird citizen came in for a drink. The streets were deserted except for some ducks and ladies going to the stores. There was only a light drizzle falling then.

"A lonesome man came along and stopped in front of the Blue Snake to scrape the mud off his boots.

"'Pardner,' says I, 'what has happened?' This morning there was bustle and gayety afoot; and now it seems more like one of them ruined cities of Tyre and Siphon where the lone lizard crawls on the walls of the main portcullis.'

"'The whole town,' says the muddy man, 'is up in Sperry's wool warehouse listening to your side-kicker make a speech. He is some gravy on delivering himself of audible sounds relating to matters and conclusions,' says the man.

"'Well, I hope he'll adjourn, sine qua non, pretty soon,' says I, 'for trade languishes.'

"Not a customer did we have that afternoon. At six o'clock two Mexicans brought Andy to the saloon lying across the back of a burro. We put him to bed while he still muttered and gesticulated with his hands and feet.

"Then I locked up the cash and went out to see what had happened. I met a man who told me all about it. Andy had made the finest two-hour speech that had ever been heard in Texas, he said, or anywhere else in the world.

"'What was it about?' I asked.

"'Temperance,' says he. 'And when he got through every man in Bird City signed the pledge for a year.'"

Women On Pleasure Bent Insist Upon Keeping Floating Lace Veils in Fashion. They Know It Adds to the Picturesque Quality of a Hot Weather Costume, So They Have Invented Odd and Pleasing Ways of Making It Different From What It Has Been.

The tailor-made woman looks her worst in whatever floats, dangles, drips. For her type the straight severe line is imperative.

She must be in shipshape condition throughout her life. She has not the chance to hide carelessness in dressing or personal disorder by a multitude of accessories which the other kind of woman keeps in bureau drawers, boxes, closets.

The severity, the cleanliness, the glittering order of a man-o-war are for her. Possibly, being a woman, it might be more graceful to compare her to a yacht.

If she understands her type, this tailored woman, her life is simplified. If she misunderstands it, if she puts desire and theory above truth and fact, she is in the wrong.

Do you remember what the girl said to the clown in Locke's novel, "The Mountebank," when urging him to find his luck through knowing his type, by accentuating its defects and never failing to live up to them? He made his fortune, you remember, through following this advice.

It is thus that the dressmakers should talk to women. The tailored type has a difficult time in choosing clothes, because of her limitations, but she can arrive at actual distinction by accentuating her type, by being proud of it, and assuming that it has distinction.

But not for her the floating veil, the coquettish jewelry, the bracelet above the elbow, the dangling rose over the eyes. These are the things for the slim woman throwing her effeminacy before and around her as a swinging rose throws its perfume.

It is her type—and it is in the majority—that has kept the floating veil in fashion. She does not imitate in it the majesty of the Arab who gave the inspiration to this accessory; she imitates the coquettry of Spanish women who took the long lace drapery from the mad, mad Moors on their white horses and made it the symbol of feminine mystery and romance.

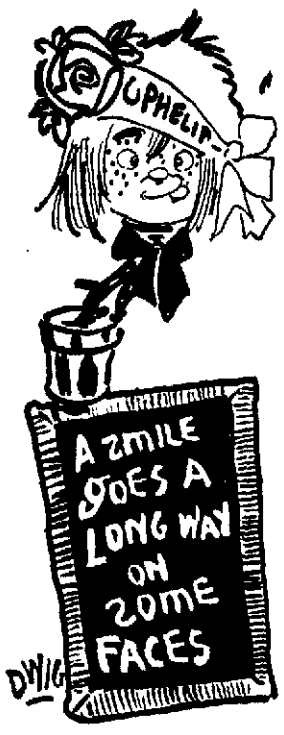
She has tired of the veil in its primitive condition. She no longer desires it to float down her back. She feels that it needs character, that it should be made to appear different from what it has been. So what does she do? She draws up its folds and catches them to the right shoulder with a long bar pin glittering with colored stones; then she runs a bracelet up her arm, nearly to the shoulder so all the world may see she has matched her two pieces of jewelry.

Of course these accessories are green if it is possible for the woman with the floating veil to secure them; that color has caught the world by the throat. Emerald, jade, quartz, crystal, it's all the same, except to the purse.

An unusual way to wear a veil which is of taupe-colored lace with long end caught on shoulder with emerald bar pin. A green bracelet worn above elbow matches the pin.



"What's In a Name?"

By MILDRED MARSHALL.

Facts About Your Name; Its History; Its Meaning; Whence It Was Derived; Its Significance; Your Lucky Day and Lucky Jewel.

NELLIE.

THERE is considerable room for doubt in assuming that Nellie is a derivative or a contraction of stately Eleanor. Though some etymologists claim that the former name is evolved in the lengthy process between the original Helen and the final Lina, there are two other sources from which Nellie might well be sprung without such a formidable history of derivation.

The Dutch have a name which they call Nelle, meaning "horn," which is pronounced the same as our Neelie and might easily be the direct progenitor of this popular little name. For those who reject this derivation there is the German Nelle, which has wide vogue in all countries under teutonic influence. It evolved through the quaint English Petronella, a feminine name given in honor of Saint Peter.

The first Petronella was said to have been his daughter. For that reason the name was exceedingly popular in Spain as Petronilla. In Norway it made its appearance as Petronille and was shortened to Nille, a name which corresponds very closely to our Nellie.

The bloodstone is Nellie's talismanic gem. It will preserve her health and protect her from dis*eases, especially from those which* affect the blood. Tuesday is her lucky day and 1 her lucky number.

LAST NIGHT'S DREAMS: WHAT THEY MEAN

DID YOU DREAM OF UMBRELLAS?

A DREAM of an umbrella is a rather mixed omen if the mystic interpreters may be believed. The scientific, psychological interpreters of the preudian school also pay considerable attention to umbrellas seen in dreams, regarding them as symbolic manifestations. The mystics say that an umbrella is a sign of vexations and petty quarrels which the dreamer will be called upon to undergo. In this they seem pretty well agreed, but predict nothing of a serious nature from the dream.

To dream of lending an umbrella is a prediction that the dreamer will have his confidence in some one whom he has trusted destroyed, and to dream of borrowing an umbrella indicates that the dreamer's distrust of a friend or acquaintance will eventually bring about an estrangement. One who dreams that a storm turns his umbrella inside out will suffer, or is already suffering, vexations from others who are trying to belittle him. To dream that you are walking in the rain with an open umbrella over your head is a rather favorable omen as it indicates that you will bear with enquanimity the asperations of your enemies and will suffer no harm from anything they may say against you. For a young lady to dream of an open umbrella is a sign that she will soon have a new admirer. But it would be better for her to remain faithful to her old lover if she has one.

To-Day's Lucky Jewel Color Flower

CORAL.

TODAY'S talismanic gem is the coral. It is believed to be especially lucky for those who are ill, bringing them strength and vitality, and also to protect those who grow tired easily or are in fear of contagious diseases. However, an unbroken bit of it must be worn, since if broken the coral loses its mystic powers.

The amethyst is the natal stone of those born today; besides endowing its wearer with common sense and sobering one who is inclined to be too frivolous it is believed to have great curative powers. In olden times it was sometimes crushed and given as a powder to those who were ill.

Coral pink is today's color, and is attributed with power to bring its wearer strength, health, and great powers of resistance.

Most appropriately, today's flower is the scarlet geranium, which brings friends and gayety to the household which it adorns.

Youthful Marriages

A GIRL of fifteen writes me that she is very much in love with a boy of seventeen, and that they are planning to elope as their hard-hearted parents refuse to let them be married in the conventional manner. And she wants to know if I think she will be happy.

Not a chance of it, my dear! It needs no prophet to foretell that if you marry at fifteen you will be divorced at twenty, and that just about the time when the other girls of your age are having their coming-out parties you will be crawling in, broken-hearted and ashamed, to the home you are so eager now to leave!

The only certain thing about a child marriage is that it is bound to end in disaster, and bring lifelong regrets to the two poor, silly young creatures, who gambled with their lives before they were old enough, and wise enough, to realize the risks they took, or how hazardous is the matrimonial game, and what skill and nfinesse it takes to play a winning hand in it.

Of all the follies that any human being, male or female, can commit, none equals the supreme idiocy of a very youthful marriage because it lacks every single, solitary thing upon which it is possible to build a house of happiness, or out of which you can construct a binding tie between a man and woman.

It lacks love. It lacks money. It lacks congeniality and suitability. It lacks self-control and experience of the world. It lacks satiety of the pleasure, of youth. It lacks the desire to settle down and be about the business of life that is the real bed rock of domesticity.

Of course any young girl who thinks she is in love will scorn me when I tell her that chicken love is the most ephemeral thing in the world, and that like the dew on the rosebud, it vanishes while we are still looking at it. Nevertheless, it is true, and because you like to dance with some boy whose step matches your own, or you dream about the way he slicks his hair back, or you thrill when he kisses you good-night and holds your hand at the movies, is no sign you entertain a deathless affection for him.

Consider, my dear, the things you raved over last summer. Recall the boy at the beach that you thought just too cute for anything. Remember the sundaes you doted on, the frocks you were crazy about. How you despise them now! You smile with pity at the unsophisticated girl you were then. How your tastes have changed, improved! And how you would be bored to tears if you had to do the things and wear the things you adored only a twelve-month ago.

Well, a husband isn't like a frock. You can't throw him into the discard, or wish him on a country cousin like you can a dress you have wearied of. Yet you can grow as sick of the sight of the man to whom you are married as you can of a yea.-before-last faded muslin. And believe me, little girl, life has no greater tragedy than to be tied to a husband who has nothing the matter with him except that you have just lost your taste for him.

So wait until you know what you want in a man before you make your life selection. You don't know what you are going to be yourself yet. There is risk enough in matrimony, Heaven knows, without taking any chances on yourself.

Furthermore, my child, it takes money to finance a marriage, and no very young man makes enough in these days to keep the wolf away from the door. All of this poetic buncome about love being enough and living on kisses is piffle. You will crave three square meals a day after marriage as much as you do before marriage and take the same heart interest in clothes, and love the creature comforts just as much.

So will the lad you marry, and when you can't have them, and the bill collector begins hammering on the door, and you are shabby, and harassed with debts, you will quarrel, and wish to heaven you had had enough sense to stay single until you really had the price of a marriage license.

And unless a man is a superman, gifted with actual financial genius, and an early marriage is a handicap that keeps him at the foot of the ladder all his days. Every cent he can make, and more, is needed to run the home. He has no chance to get ahead, and soon his spirit and his ambition are broken, and he sinks into the drudge class. So, if you really love your boy sweetheart, give him a chance to win out. Let him get a start before you put the burden of a family on his back.

Don't marry until you have had your playtime of life. The only carefree time in a woman's whole existence is the little span between her school days and her wedding day. After that, no matter how good and kind a man she marries she is bound. There is always some one whose wishes she must consult before her own, someone whose happiness she must prefer before her own.

Don't marry until you have had all the idle flirtations you want, all the admiration from casual men you desire, all the dancing and gadding you crave. Have your fling before marriage instead of afterwards. That's only fair to the man, to yourself, and to the general public.

Something To Think About

Why a Famous College Song Keeps Its Old Air

By F. A. WALKER

WHILE the World War was going on objection was made to the singing of Yale's famous song "Bright College Year" to the tune of the "Wacht Am Rhein."

In fact the class of 1899 went so far as to offer a prize for a new air to be fitted to the old words.

When the matter was brought to the attention of the Alumni advisory board recently that body suggested that the corporation decline gratefully the offer of "Ninety-nine," and this advice was taken.

It is easy to understand why Yale men should not care to sever such a link with the past. The song would hardly be recognizable if set to new music. Besides it would be difficult to get a satisfactory substitute.

But the real explanation is still more to the point.

Since the Declaration of the Armistice there has been a "Watch on the Rhine" kept by Americans, and American flags have been flying from the castles overlooking the haunts of the Rhine maidens of the ancient legends.

So it will be natural to think of the new watch, instead of the first one, whenever Yale men gather together for any sort of celebration.

As a matter of fact the "Wacht Am Rhein" did not become popular in Germany until some time after the close of the Franco-Prussian War. It did not represent the spirit of the armies that had been led by the old King and by Von Moltke.

It was, on the other hand, an expression of the new spirit that was to bring about in 1914 the invasion of Belgium and the fighting which should end in the Argonne Forest and Belleau Wood.

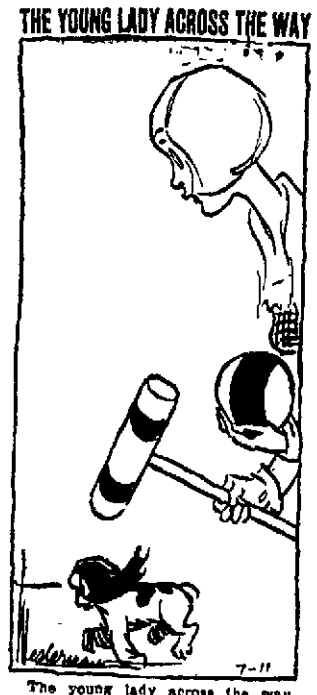
A precedent for retaining the air is also to be found in the case of "America" which is sung to the air of "God Save the King" that fell into unpopularity in America round about the time of the Boston Tea Party and the pulling down of the statue of George III at Bowling Green in New York.

The late King Edward, always a warm friend of the Republic, was in favor of letting this country have the exclusive use of the air of "My Country 'Tis of Thee." He did not care for the sentiments expressed in at least one of the verses of the national anthem that was always played when he appeared in public.

In fact, it was said that he wished to have Dr. Watts' stirring hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" substituted for it on formal occasions.

But, owing to the conservatism of the public, this was never done. Perhaps they associated the familiar air so much with the long reign of Victoria that they did not care to change.

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY



The young lady across the way says the world is beginning to see that war is criminal foolishness and she looks forward to the time when there will be no more amity among nations.

Lyrics of Life

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WE SHAPE THE ROAD.

The home, the shop, the school, the church, the town—
We either lift them up or drag them
down,
Their fame impair, or give them
new renown.

Lives unaffecting life we cannot live;
The world around us is so sensitive
That some impression each will others give.

Wee annot live alone; our lives will touch
The things around us, and will make them such
As we are, be we little, be we much.

The home is happier or home is sad,
The shop complaining or the labor glad,
Because our part in each we each have had.

The scholars make the school; and they who kneel
Make up the church; the citizens
ideal,
If high or low, decides the commonweal.

In town and church, school, shop,
and man's abode,
Each footstep helps to shape for all the road.
Friend, do you help or hinder with the load?

LAVISHNESS VS. VULGARITY.

There is but one step between the lavish and the contemptible. To entertain our guests by offering a bountiful repast is but a sign of hospitality, but to ask them to a table that groans under the weight of more food than could possibly be eaten at a meal, expensive flowers and priceless silver is to show ourselves lacking in good breeding.

When foreigners—as not infrequently happens—leave this country with the impression that wealthy Americans are vulgar, it is because they have been entertained with over lavishness. They have sat through thirteen course dinners, at which every dish offered was worth enough to feed a workingman's family for a week, and every dish that was not hothouse grown was imported from over the seas. To such Americans corn on the cob is delectable only in mid-winter, and strawberries and tomatoes are never worth eating save when the snow flies.

In England more than here it is considered absolutely ill bred to make a point of serving dishes out of season, and in this prejudice at least the English manner is better than ours. It took the European war and our entrance into it for American hostesses to learn that lavishness was silly if not wicked.

Already the results have been excellent. The many-coursed dinner is entirely out of vogue. So, too, is the afternoon tea that is as bountiful as an old-fashioned dinner and much more elaborate. Well-bred hostesses are no longer serving bouillons, patties, salads, French pastries and ices at afternoon receptions. For the afternoon bridge party or other entertainment the rule among leading women in every community is either for no refreshments or a "one-course" refreshment. If an ice is served, then there is no salad before it. If not chocolate is selected then there would be merely wafers or small cakes and if tea or coffee is served a light sandwich would complete the refreshments.

Explained Roads Must Bear the Expense of Roadbed While Trucks Escape Cost

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of The New York Evening Post and The Wichita Daily Times
(Copyright 1921 by The New York Evening Post)

WASHINGTON Aug 10—If President Harding were a man of less equable temperament he might recently have sighed as he bent his back into the mass of things and men that impinged for his attention on his return from his brief vacation. Chief among the many things which would at such a time seem to him that they were not everything else combined is taxation. That subject now has the right of way and there is little doubt that sooner or later congress will pass the responsibility from it to the administration just as it has already turned over to Harding other things that were difficult and politically dangerous. In fact congress has already made Harding take on his shoulders responsibility for the defeat of the bonus act and that was wholly a matter of taxation. From the point of view of congress the difficulty about taxation is that what is sound is also unpopular.

One of the principal protests that has arisen over Secretary Mellon's proposals has been directed against the suggestion that automobiles should be taxed $10 each. That would be a direct and not inconsiderable tax on several million persons who by their standing in their various communities composes a substantial body of voters as there is. It took no little courage for Secretary Mellon to propose that tax and it will take more courage for the administration to stick to it. But the immense volume of public and private motor transportation that has grown up in recent years ought to bear the chief burden of the expense that has been put or will be put into road construction. One of the several difficulties that beset the railroads is the fact that the motor trucks to a certain extent have been subsidized in competition against them.

When a railroad makes a freight rate it must include an allowance for the upkeep of the roadbed all of which the railroad pays. But when the competing motor truck line makes its freight rate it does not include in that an allowance for the upkeep of the highway. The railroad feels that the motor bus is maintained by general public taxation. It is quite true that the automobile has been taxed with increasing heaviness in recent years by federal, state and city authorities. In some sections in fact the automobile is maintained from the following sources: Federal road construction. The tax on gasoline, which at least the farmer feels is a national tax. The state highway taxes, which are apportioned among automobile and truck owners who use the roads in greatly varying numbers in various sections of the state. And the city taxes.

With in the administration the suggestion has been made that if it were practicable the system of taxation which automobiles and trucks could pay would be a large loss of revenue to the road. One thing that the administration is determined on is that there shall be no further federal road construction without the local authorities in the states paying their share of maintaining the roads they have built.

The matter of taxes is but one of the many difficulties inherent in the big job that the administration has set out to do. Although a tax measure. On this subject the chance possibilities of party split in congress and popular resentment at the price beyond anything else that the administration has had

JEFFERSON DAVIS OBELISK WILL BE UNVEILED JUNE 3 ON HIS 114TH ANNIVERSARY

LOUISVILLE Ky Aug 10—The Jefferson Davis obelisk, an imposing monument to the president of the Confederate states, will be unveiled here on June 3, the 114th anniversary of the birth of the Confederate president.

The Davis home stand is at Fairview, 140 miles from Louisville, Ky., where Abraham Lincoln was born.

The obelisk, which will be 351 feet high, is to be surmounted with a five foot statue of the president. It was planned originally to erect a shaft 351 feet to be exactly like the Washington monument but the Jefferson Davis Home association decided to delay the unveiling in accordance with the wish of United Confederate Veterans. Anxious to participate in the ceremonies the planning funds were completed as soon as possible. The work was started in 1917 and interrupted by the world war.

The idea originated with Mrs. Davis and his daughter, Miss Margaret Davis, one of the most beautiful women of the south, erected the base of the monument which is 51 feet square. It contains a room for relics.

The shaft is situated in Jefferson Davis park, which takes in part of the farm on which the president of the Confederacy was born on June 3, 1808, less than a year before Lincoln. The park comprises about 22 acres. The town of Fairview gains its name from one of the most beautiful landscapes in the south.

Cost of the monument to date is about $110,000, which was raised by popular subscription. Mrs. Roy McKinney of Paducah, ky., president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, organized every county in the state to complete the shaft.

Gen. William B. Haldeman, formerly owner with Col. Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal, is president of the Jefferson Davis Home association, succeeding the late Gen. Bennet H. Young of the Louisville four times commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans. Colonel Young, Little Rock, of Austin, Texas, and Julian S. Carr of Durham, N. C., were prominent with General Young of the old national officers.

Cost of the monument and park will be supplied by the state of Kentucky after the appropriation has passed the 1920 legislature.

Two other monuments commemorating Confederate president are in Richmond, Va., the capital of the Confederacy, and the other in New Orleans, La., where Jefferson Davis died.

TURKS PLANNING TO EXTERMINATE GREEKS ON THE BLACK SEA

BOSTON Aug 9—Charging that the Turks evidently have a deliberate plan of exterminating the entire Greek population on the shores of the Black sea, the Near East Relief Union of America with headquarters here has just made public a cable message from Dr. Thodis president of the League of the Greeks of Pontus in which he makes in the name of justice and the most sacred rights of man a last appeal to the humanitarian sentiments of the United States.

The message dated Constantinople July 21 reads as follows:

"The inhuman acts, assassinations, thefts, violations, arbitrary confiscations of property, all sorts of malefactions unheard of before are in the daily program since the armistice in the interior of the Pontus and in the interior of Asia Minor.

"Recent news just received from the Pontus describes with the blackest colors the desperate condition of the Greek population. The male Greek population from 17 to 60 years of age of all the cities of the Pontus Ineboli, Samsoun, Kerassund, Ordou, Tripoli, as well as Trebizond, has been deported to the interior.

"The largest part of this population has been massacred on the way by the Turks and those who could survive have arrived by way of Sivas as far as Afghistan in Kurdistan. The fate of the Christian villages of the interior is ignored. The village of Ada and its surrounding country containing a Greek population of nearly 3,500 persons has been burned down and their inhabitants massacred by the Turks who turned the villages into ashes after having plundered them. Other villages around Samsoun were pillaged and burned down some time ago.

"Yesterday the commander of the American torpedo boat destroyer S. S. Houston brought the news that on the 19th of July the Turks compelled the women, the girls and the children who were abandoned by their relatives in the exile to vacate their houses and asks to be ready to start for an exile. Fifteen thousand of these unfortunate refugees from Samsoun, 6,000 from Kerassund and 14,000 from Ordou. Omnish is also in danger of being annihilated, if they are not already.

"In the name of justice and of the most sacred rights of man we make a last appeal to the humanitarian sentiments of the people of the United states and we ask the government of the United States to take immediately such measures which shall be judged convenient to put an end to this condition of things which constitutes a shame in the full light of the 20th century."

Outlaw Elk Has Been Adopted by New York Lodge

YELLOWSTONE PARK WYO Aug 10—Bill the outlaw elk of Yellowstone has been adopted by members of New York lodge B. P. O. E.

Bill had been in disgrace. His crimes have been too tame. Residents of Mammoth where park headquarters are located spoiled Bill by teaching him to eat from their hands. From a pet he became a pest. So tame was he after a season or two that he no longer joined his brothers and sisters in their wanderings about Yellowstone and became an outcast.

Also his tastes degenerated. They became almost gourmandic. The days came when no fruit he hankered from the lunch baskets was safe from his aspirations. His special taste was for little silken cushions. So they locked Bill up in a corral and there he has remained.

Then came the crowd of New Yorkers visiting the park on their way home from their annual Los Angeles convention. A group of them visited the corral where a number of calves are also kept.

"Hello Bill," cried one, an amateur preaching group. Bill was asleep and thinking he was being summoned hurried up for food.

To surprise was Patrick McGrath exalted ruler of the New York lodge that he regretted. Shortly before he had been talking with too much in his hand. It was a membership application.

Now Bill has a particular fondness for grapes. Hence a miraculous resemblance between a number have disappeared down his throat. A moment later and Bill had a membership tucked inside of him.

After that there was nothing left but to elect Bill an honorary member of the lodge. And they arranged a special banquet for him.

ASIA BIGGEST CLOUD ON HORIZON OF THE FUTURE SAYS A FRENCH WRITER

PARIS Aug 10—Dr. A. Legendre, a French writer on Chinese and Asiatic subjects gained from years of travel and observation in the Far East warns the world in his latest work that "Asia is at the white man's doors. 900,000,000 strong. The biggest cloud on the horizon of the future he says is the yellow peril.

"The white race, Dr. Legendre says, let it forget that the Oriental puts it when Japan defeated Russia. During the great war Japan multiplied her resources and saved her strength while Europe lost 9,000,000 men and today suffers depressing intellectual, moral and economic debility.

"Great Britain, the author holds, erred in supporting Japan through her marriage of reason with the Pacific empire, an alliance now proving so embarrassing."

Imperialistic Germanism and socialism now are a union, he adds in expounding his theory that Japanese and German expansion each toward the other threaten to bridge the old Russian bulwark against Asiatic invasion of Europe and call for prompt action by the white man to save himself from the domination he sees impending in the steadily increasing crystallization of "Asia for the Asiatics" sentiment particularly among the Mussulmans. Russia he says cannot save herself, she must be helped with a new kind of state manship.

Detailed studies of Asiatic economic resources are given by Dr. Legendre to support his assertion that the yellow race may become sellers instead of buyers unless the white race develops its commerce in every way and seeks to produce cheaply, anticipating Asiatic competition by establishing factories in Asia and by increasing production in all of Europe's colonies.

Among many illustrations of Asiatic resources the author cites Siberian exports of butter that went from 20,000,000 pounds in 1900 to 100,000,000 pounds in 1913 and much of which was sold as Danish butter.

Formidable and ominous as the author finds Asia, he says, nevertheless can be met by the white race superior working ability and superior leadership. It must at last be realized however, he says "that hereafter it is Asia vs. Europe face with Europe.

"Pan Asiatism is a reality, he concludes, and the peace conference inconclusive, did not do it could to favor it particularly on the Shantung question. Dr. Legendre says the United States, the only champions of China now and from now on America will be forced against any sort of political immorality or speculation.

NEGRO VAUDEVILLE TROUPE APPEARS AT WICHITA THEATER

The upper balconies of the Wichita theater were packed to the limit Tuesday night when a negro troupe of vaudeville performers opened a five night stand. A liberal sprinkling of the white citizenry was on hand in the lower floor seats, but the representation of the city's negro population was apparently 90 per cent complete.

The show itself was rather more interesting than the average negro bill of its kind, several capable actors and humorists being included in the personnel of the company.

Someone slipped a cog, however, for advertisements stating that street cars would be provided to carry the negroes from the theater in order that the white passengers would not be incommoded failed to pan out. If any special cars were on hand they were too late to accomplish any good and on at least two of the outbound cars leaving the theater center after the show white passengers found all but the first few seats occupied by negroes.

Beach Suits That Go to Deauville in August, Where Fashionables Forgather From England, America and France Should Be Used as Inspiration for New Kinds of Frocks Good for Our Own Beaches and Hills

When anyone thinks of a [illegible] reports like an automaton the established phrase [illegible] of white skirts wash [illegible] and sweaters.

She would make a huge mistake if she lived up to this thought on the coasts of England and France. The fashions at such spots are influenced by the fact that they stimulate our [illegible] in addition to abandoning the [illegible] of summers for something cleverer and more picturesque.

If a woman is to be partially [illegible] in her holiday living by herself and enjoying the activities which America offers she need not care what she wears. Any old [illegible] blouses that have seen better days, sweaters that must be darned, shoes that need no polish are useful accessories in a camp life in the mountains or a cottage life by the sea.

[illegible] not [illegible] pleasure to a minor. We don't get the chance to discard the trappings of fashion above most men and come as near to [illegible] as possible. Certainly the average woman wants this her summers out of them. She wants to know what is a suitable wear in picturesque. She [illegible] and suitable for informal hours or for the sport on the tennis field or golf links.

[illegible] to give the needed [illegible] this summer especially in beach clothes and they are not confined to the smart French [illegible] who dictates severity even though such is simplicity. They are [illegible] the millions of vacationists who are trailing through the Deauville's waiting for the [illegible] at Deauville that enchanting red and blue painted [illegible] on the white sands of the English channel which dedicates itself to gaiety for a brief month in August again and more than ever in these post-war days.

[illegible] a frock that goes to Deauville. It is not above the ambition nor the skill of the average American woman, she would look immensely well in it. It is of gray Georgette with a pleated skirt and a wrinkled blouse. Straight bands of coral ribbon drop down the length of the skirt falling below its hem, the blouse reaching to the hips turns from simplicity into frills when it arrives at the neckline. It is finished there with a deep pleated bertha of Georgette, edged with coral ribbon.

The milliner made the hat to match the frock. It is a sunshade type in gray straw with Kate Greenaway ribbons flying toward the hem of skirt.

Ribbon is too important this summer for any woman to ignore. It is used for almost every purpose of ornamentation. It trims the majority of hats especially in the Victorian fashion of long curling streamers narrow as snakes, it serves as a girdle in place of metal, leather or brocade.

Surely, this fact is first aid to the woman who wonders how she can give character to a neutral frock.

Gown for Deauville beaches of grey georgette. The pleated skirt is striped with coral ribbons. The straight blouse has a bertha edged with this ribbon.

LENINE TELLS PEASANTS IS NECESSARY FOR THEM TO HELP BEAR BURDENS

RIGA LATVIA Aug 10—The Moscow Pravda official organ of the central committee of the Russian communist party recently printed the complete text of a speech by Lenine before the summer conference of the communist party outlining frankly the reasons for the recent changes toward free trade in Russia

We openly honestly and frankly say to the peasants Lenine is quoted as saying that in order to keep on the road to socialism we make many concessions to you peasant comrades but only within certain limits and to a certain extent and of course these limits and the extent we will determine ourselves The concessions bear upon the distribution of the burden the greatest part of which hitherto fell to the lot of the proletariat but not on the peasantry

During the three and a half years of the dictatorship of the proletariat the latter took upon itself more hardships than did the peasantry This is an obvious truth and can not be challenged

The question as to the mutual relations between proletariat and peasantry stands as follows Either the peasantry comes to an understanding with us and we accord them economic concessions or it is a fight That is why all other arguments are nothing but undiluted nonsense

Every other road leads in reality only to Milukoff that is to the restoration of the estate owners and capitalists but we say that we are willing to make any concessions so long as they are within the limits of a policy which tends to support and strengthen the proletariat which if unfaltering in spite of all hardships and obstacles make for the destruction of class distinction and for the ultimate establishment of communism

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton

NEW YORK Aug 10—Higher Liverpool cables continued favorable reports from the goods trade and expectations of a bullish weekly review of weather conditions in the belt led to renewed buying in the cotton market at the opening today First prices were steady at an advance of 8 to 11 points and active months sold 16 to 20 points above last nights close during the early trading The advance was accompanied by rumors that returns to a southern authority made the mid month condition of the crop 59 4 against official figures of 64 7 for last month December contracts sold up to 13 92c or 36 points above the low prices touched on the reaction yesterday and within 5 points of the recent high level

The early buying movement carried December up to 13 94 while January and later deliveries made new high records for the movement

Increased offerings were encountered as prices approached the 14 cent level for December however probably including some southern hedge selling while realizing was promoted by unfavorable goods trade reports from Manchester The weekly report of the weather bureau providing no more unfavorable news than foreshadowed by daily complaints seemed to increase disposition to take profits on long contracts and the market was rather unsettled early in the noon hour with active months selling back to last nights closing prices

Liquidation was prompted by reports of an unsettled tone in the stock market during early afternoon and prices sold from 10 to 15 points below last nights closing December broke to 13 61c and was within 3 or 4 points of that price around 2 o clock

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO Aug 10—Government confirmation of big damage to crops led to higher prices in the wheat market today Initial quotations which varied from 1c to 2½c higher with September $1 21½ to $1 22½ and December $1 23½ to $1 23 were followed by a moderate setback though not sufficient to wipe out all the gains

Subsequently material declines were registered owing to free selling on the part of strong interests together with apparent slowness of export demand The close was heavy 1½c to 2½c net lower with September $1 21½ to $1 22 and December $1 24½ to $1 25

Evidence of increasing receipts weakened corn After opening ½c to ¾c higher including September at 56½c to 56¾c the market receded to well below yesterdays finish

December delivery touched the lowest level yet this season The close was weak 1¼c to 2c net lower with September 56½c to 56¾c and December 55½c to 56c

Oats started ½c to ¾c higher September 37½c to 37¾c, and then underwent a material sag

Weakness in hogs lowered provisions

PUSSYFOOT JOHNSON PLANS TO CAMUAIGN IN INDIA

COPENHAGEN Aug 10—William E (Pussyfoot) Johnson will sail from England for India in August The trip of the famous American prohibition leader is in response to numerous invitations from various temperance organizations in India including those among the missionary organizations and natives

Pussyfoot's itinerary includes Bombay Poona Baroda Lahore Amritsar Delhi Cawnpore Lucknow Allahabad Benares and Calcutta and has been mapped out by the temperance forces in India From India Mr Johnson will go to Ceylon for a brief visit in response to invitations from temperance organizations there and then sail for England

Among the temperance organizations arranging Mr Johnson's itinerary are said to be some of the most prominent persons in the social and civic life of India The various native religions of India are what may be termed prohibition religions While native liquors are made and sold and drinking has increased to a great extent even among many of the people whose religious tenets are opposed to the use of intoxicants the temperance forces of India say they must combat the operations of the drink traffic which is largely in the hands of foreigners

TONS OF GOLD COMING ON PASSENGER LINERS

Handled by Seamen and Longshoremen as Nonchalantly As Scrap Iron

NEW YORK Aug 10—Gold tons of it coming here on every large passenger liner that plies the Atlantic is handled by seamen and longshoremen as nonchalantly as if it were scrap iron

On such ships as the Olympic arrive millions of dollars worth of the precious metal—shipments such as would have swamped an old galleon sailing the Spanish main But the heavy steel bound boxes of ingots or coin stored away in the holds of the giant liners arouse among passengers and crew far less interest than the presence of an internationally known actress or prize winning Pomeranian

It was recently announced that the United States subtreasury vaults here already hold $1 500 000 000 in gold one-fifth of the world's entire supply

Gold is classified as freight and a certain rate per ton is paid for transporting it although due to its value special consideration is given to its safety On each of these big ships is a vault—known in ship language as the strong room It is a big box or chamber heavily lined with armor plate steel located in one of the lower holds in such a position that it can be approached from but one direction by a passage opening from but one door or hatch

There is no space around the strong room for a would be thief to work with a drill and indeed if he should get in he would probably find himself a prisoner

Delivered to the ship in a European number of boxes noted the state value of the contents sees to it that proper customs permits for shipment have been issued and in the name of the ship signs the bills of lading Under his personal eye it is stowed in the strong room where it is again checked The room is locked and the keys and combination of the door are retained in the purser's own care On several of the ships electric alarm devices add to the protection

On arrival in New York the gold shipments receive first attention after the passengers have been discharged A special force of longshoremen under the eye of a trusted boss is led to the strong room in company with a representative of the bank or banks to which the gold is assigned The boxes are checked out loaded on trucks of a certain weight to each man and trundled away to waiting vans near the ship sides

The longshoremen who handle the treasure make no fuss about it—it is all in a working day of eight hours—and gold or pigiron it is the same to them However once in the vans when the ship is released of responsibility there is a show of guards

What would happen to the gold if the ship should meet with an accident and go down? It would have to go with the ship unless conditions were such that it could be removed after the lives of all on board had been saved Is the answer of the lines Like other freight it is insured and not even treasure must be taken into consideration when lives are at stake

Gold shipments which have gone down are occupying the attention of scores of marine experts today Numerous devices have been patented and many lives have been lost in attempts to salvage sunken treasure Among hundreds of others a rich reward awaits the man who can salvage the treasure lost with the Lusitania.

CADILLAC

Security and Satisfaction are His, Wherever the Cadillac Owner May Tour

Before starting a tour across the continent, it is desirable to know something of the company which built your car, as well as the car itself.

In the very broadest sense of the word, the Cadillac is a sound and strongly established American institution.

There is probably not another plant in the world as advantageously equipped as the wonderful new works which the Cadillac Motor Car Company has just occupied.

The Cadillac has always been a model in manufacturing fitness and fineness, to which manufacturers of high grade cars the world over have gladly paid tribute.

The new Cadillac plant insures a degree of scientific exactitude, efficiency, and economy, beyond the fondest dreams of anything attained in the past.

Its far-flung system of sales and service puts friends within easy reach for the Cadillac tourist, wherever his fancy may carry him.

Back of every Cadillac sold is a solid history of eighteen years of unique experience, hammered and welded into a positive knowledge of how to build a car of the highest grade.

Back of every Cadillac is business responsibility—a splendid past, a solidly successful present, a sure, substantial and brilliant future.

The knowledge of these things brings a sense of certainty and satisfaction to the Cadillac owner second only to the certainty he feels that his car will do all he expects it to do, and more than he could hope any other would do.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS TO BE INSTALLED ON BUSY CORNERS

AUTO DEALERS REVIVE MOVEMENT STARTED BY THEM SOME TIME AGO

WILL EXPERIMENT ON SCOTT INTERSECTIONS

Extend to Other Streets Later—Commissioner Fitts May Name Dealers Special Traffic Officers.

Traffic signal posts will be installed on three of the downtown street corners within a few days time, according to information gleaned Monday from the traffic committee of the Wichita Falls Automotive Dealers' association which in collaboration with the police department, is backing the movement for better traffic conditions in the city. Metal sign posts will be place at the Scott street intersections of Eight Ninth and Tenth streets for the time being and if these prove satisfactory 14 others will be constructed and placed at all principal corners in the business section.

The campaign for better traffic was launched by the dealers' association several months ago and a committee composed of Carl Waelder, Milton Gaines and E. V. Leslie appointed to confer with police officials in regard to the matter. After considering the situation from all angles the committee recommended that the association finance the placing of signs at advantageous points throughout the city. The advisability of the police department furnishing traffic cops at specified times during the day was also considered but nothing has come of this.

It was learned Monday through the committee that 10 local auto dealers were to be appointed special deputies by Police Commissioner J. H. Fitts to act as traffic directors on such occasions as their services might be needed.

The metal signs, it is said, will be built at a local foundry and will be of bell shape construction so that when struck and knocked down by passing cars they will right themselves uninjured. Plans for the posts are now being worked out by Voelcker & Dixon local architects.

SUPPOSED MAD DOG IS KILLED THURSDAY AFTER BITING CHILD

A stray dog believed by many to have been suffering from rabies was killed in Florida Heights late Tuesday afternoon after it had bitten Fred Taylor aged eight son of Mrs. Myrtle Taylor of 2204 Polk.

The dog's head was severed and turned over to Dr. W. P. Lowry city health officer, who will send it to Austin for examination for hydrophobia.

The dog was running loose in the vicinity of Tenth and Polk at a time when many of the children of that neighborhood were out playing in their yards and it caused much alarm by its actions. It is said to have snapped at a number of children but bit only one.

Leoman Taylor aged 17 brother of the boy who was bitten killed the dog with a 22 calibre rifle after it had created a near-panic in that part of the city.

It is thought that the Taylor boy was bitten before the animal went mad but no chances are being taken on that score.

REDISTRICTING BILL PUTS WICHITA WITH 7 OTHER COUNTIES

The passage by the senate at Austin Tuesday of the senatorial redistricting bill is expected to result in a new alignment of senatorial districts by 1924. A similar bill had already passed the house and while the two measures do not coincide all points it is considered very probable that they can be reconciled.

The bill puts Wichita county in with Hardeman, Foard, Knox, Wilbarger, Baylor, Archer and Young counties and is considered much more satisfactory from this county's standpoint than some of the other proposed districts.

There are nine west Texas districts under the new bill as compared with only five under the existing arrangement. The chief injustice done to west Texas by the bill is that it is not to become effective if the state senate has its way until April 1, 1924 but it is possible that this feature will be eliminated before the bill is finally passed.

All of the counties in the twenty-third district which includes Wichita county are in this city's trade territory most of them are oil counties and all have much in common with Wichita county and with each other.

The twenty second district is designed to include Montague, Jack, Wise, Denton, Palo Pinto and Parker. The twenty fourth which adjoins the twenty third on the south consists of Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Haskell, Shackelford, Stephens, Eastland, Callahan, Taylor, Nolan, Mitchell and Throckmorton. West of the twenty third district beginning with Clay county is the thirty first district which includes all of the Panhandle.

GIFT OF 2 BUFFALO IS MADE BY WICHITAN TO OLD HOME TOWN

Through the generosity of R. C. Allen local oil man the city of Sulphur Bluff has received as a gift from its native son two buffalo a bull and a cow which it is hoped will provide the foundation for a herd of buffalo for the Missouri.

Mr. Allen made the gift in connection with the Missouri cut off celebration to be held this week.

The buffalo are from the Goodnight ranch in the Panhandle and were shipped recently. Mr. Allen was largely instrumental in preventing the Goodnight ranch falling into alien hands several years ago.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, achy and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. F. T. Adams, Austin street, Wichita Falls, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble three years ago and I am glad to say I haven't had to use them since. At that time I suffered with my back and kidneys day and night. I was so bad off I couldn't do my housework and my back ached terribly. I was finally in bed for about three weeks and every move I made I thought my back would break. I was also annoyed by the irregular action of my kidneys. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and on taking this advice I was cured after using a few boxes."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Adams had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv.)
